Open to Liverymen only and their guests.

The Charter Dinner celebrates the granting of the Company's Royal Charter by Queen Mary Tudor on 4 May 1557. Official Company guests are invited to this dinner, who include the chief executives of our Corporate Members, chairmen of affiliated Trade Associations, with their chief executives and senior executives from our main suppliers.

We are delighted to announce that this year's speaker will be Christian May, Editor of City AM.

Christian has been editor of this leading business and financial newspaper for over three years, when he joined at the age of 28. Formerly a columnist at City AM, Christian previously worked at the Institute of Directors as Head of Communications and Campaigning. No doubt his speech will be fascinating to hear, especially given the strange times in which we currently live!

Guests and spouses/partners are welcome, but your spouse may be sat opposite you, not adjacent (unless you otherwise specify). Liverymen are asked to remind their guests that they should not leave the table until the Master and principal guests have departed and certainly not before the Loyal Toast. Badges should NOT be worn by private guests.

To book your tickets please book online at www.stationers.org/events. Alternatively return the slip below.

Formal Pour Mémoire invitation cards will be posted to you on receipt of the booking.
