

Join us in celebrating the publication of

Words of Power

Reading Shakespeare and the Bible

Jem Bloomfield

Shakespeare and the Bible are two of the titans of English-speaking culture, their image endlessly cited and recycled, their language permeating our public ceremonies and our private jokes.

Beginning with a shrewd examination of how we have codified and standardised their canons, Bloomfield charts the ways in which every generation grapples with these enigmatic and complex texts.

Words of Power brings out modern ideas about Shakespeare and the Bible into sharp relief, by contrasting them with those of our ancestors, showing how our engagements with these texts reveal as much about ourselves as their actual meanings.

Jem Bloomfield is an Assistant Professor of Literature at the University of Nottingham. Specialising in Early Modern literature and drama, he studied at Oxford before earning his PhD from the University of Exeter.

Paperback £20.00
ISBN 9780718894139
156 x 234mm, 180pp.

PDF 9780718844387
Epub 9780718844370
Kindle 9780718844394

www.lutterworth.com